How does Smart Display work?

Smart Display identifies niche audiences

- Visiting your website
- Researching online
- Reading industry articles online
- Entering and leaving sites of interest

We build a unique audience profile for your business identifying individuals in your industry, as well as those who show purchasing behaviour online.

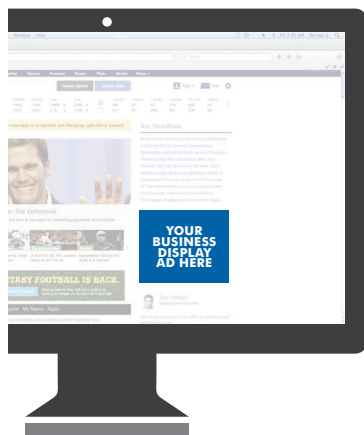

These days, people are spending more and more time consuming content and researching products and services online prior to making an inquiry. With an average of 1,700 online display ads being seen each month per person there is a huge opportunity to get in front of buyers online.

Previously, if a company visited your website and left, or was researching your products and services online, you had no way of ensuring you stayed top of mind. Through the use of MediaEdge Smart Display you can influence buyers in your current pipeline and get your message out to those who are not yet familiar with you.

Smart Display is the perfect campaign for any company looking to gain significant exposure online.
